

About New Zealand Trade and Enterprise

If you built a country with helicopters in mind, it'd look a lot like New Zealand. There's no better place to make the most of helicopter capability, and no place that demands higher performance from aircraft or their operators. From first response to agriculture and film, our technology and services for helicopters rank with the best in the world – because in New Zealand nothing less will do. So when you want a new level of performance, we'll take you wherever you need to go.

New Zealand Trade and Enterprise is the New Zealand government's international business development agency and a proud supporter of Airwork Holdings Ltd; Spider Tracks Ltd; Flightcell International; TracPlus Global Ltd; and Patterson Distributors (Eye-in-the-Sky)
